

Experiment with these different ways of learning vocabulary

Your test scores will go up!

- Copy, look, cover, write, check
- Get Mum, Dad or a friend to test you.
- Re-write the list over and over again
- Work an ever reducing list until you have learnt them all.
- Set the words/phrases to music e.g. chant, rap
- Play pairs by making pictures and word cards and then matching them up
- Write key words on post-its and stick them around the room/kitchen
- Record the French/Spanish and the English on a tape and listen to it last thing at night.
- Write the list in two colours e.g. Spanish/French in Green and English in blue. Use a highlighter.
- Try to recognise link words, opposites or groupings.
- Do a little revision of ten e.g. ten minutes at a time.
- Can you add any more ways to learn your vocabulary?

Experiment with these different ways of learning vocabulary

Your test scores will go up!

- Copy, look, cover, write, check
- Get Mum, Dad or a friend to test you.
- Re-write the list over and over again
- Work an ever reducing list until you have learnt them all.
- Set the words/phrases to music e.g. chant, rap
- Play pairs by making pictures and word cards and then matching them up
- Write key words on post-its and stick them around the room/kitchen
- Record the French/Spanish and the English on a tape and listen to it last thing at night.
- Write the list in two colours e.g. Spanish/French in Green and English in blue. Use a highlighter.
- Try to recognise link words, opposites or groupings.
- Do a little revision of ten e.g. ten minutes at a time.
- Can you add any more ways to learn your vocabulary?

Experiment with these different ways of learning vocabulary

Your test scores will go up!

- Copy, look, cover, write, check
- Get Mum, Dad or a friend to test you.
- Re-write the list over and over again
- Work an ever reducing list until you have learnt them all.
- Set the words/phrases to music e.g. chant, rap
- Play pairs by making pictures and word cards and then matching them up
- Write key words on post-its and stick them around the room/kitchen
- Record the French/Spanish and the English on a tape and listen to it last thing at night.
- Write the list in two colours e.g. Spanish/French in Green and English in blue. Use a highlighter.
- Try to recognise link words, opposites or groupings.
- Do a little revision of ten e.g. ten minutes at a time.
- Can you add any more ways to learn your vocabulary?

Experiment with these different ways of learning vocabulary

Your test scores will go up!

- Copy, look, cover, write, check
- Get Mum, Dad or a friend to test you.
- Re-write the list over and over again
- Work an ever reducing list until you have learnt them all.
- Set the words/phrases to music e.g. chant, rap
- Play pairs by making pictures and word cards and then matching them up
- Write key words on post-its and stick them around the room/kitchen
- Record the French/Spanish and the English on a tape and listen to it last thing at night.
- Write the list in two colours e.g. Spanish/French in Green and English in blue. Use a highlighter.
- Try to recognise link words, opposites or groupings.
- Do a little revision of ten e.g. ten minutes at a time.
- Can you add any more ways to learn your vocabulary?