

2nd December 2020

Year 10 Science Catch Up Support

Dear Parents and Carers

We are aware that during these challenging times students need additional support for their learning to enable them to make up for the lost learning during the lockdown of schools and to prepare for final assessments at the end of Year 10/11. This is of particular importance when looking at the development of core skills that can have a longer-term impact on study and careers choices for the future.

Here at Sir William Ramsay School, we constantly strive to help our students improve and achieve their best. By monitoring their work, we can provide extra support for those students that we feel would benefit from small group intervention and forename has been identified as a student who would benefit from this support with his/her work.

Forename will attend these small group lessons where he/she will participate in intensive Science Catch Up support. To avoid any further impact to her timetable these sessions will take place in the morning during the registration period.

These lessons will commence on Tuesday 5th January 2021 and will take place in IT2 at 8.35am. We hope that forename will view this as an opportunity to begin preparation for the examinations and so with this in mind, please encourage forename to prepare for these exams by attending these sessions.

If you have any questions regarding this intervention, please do not hesitate to contact Mr Cartwright at the school by email icartwright@swr.school.

Yours sincerely

Miss Sparks
Head of Year 10